HOME AND CHINA AFFAIRS.

TROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.

LONDON, 27th October, 1882. When the Conservative party, some years and under the leadership of the late Lord Derby and the late Lord Beaconsfield, (then Mr. D'Israel passed their celebrated Reform Bill and adopted a policy the reverse of Tory, it was said by colobrated wit that they had stolen the clothes pliment with respect to the Egyptian orisis, for in all respects he has adopted what was called Lord Beaconsfield's Asian policy, the fundamental principle whereof was to utilise our an expression of their regret that a special vote | Endian army in such a manner as to strengthen for Baron. Stillfried's photographs was not taken no in the Mediterranean, to the end that we in the first instance in the Logislative Council, might if need be hold all Engage in the Logislative Council, might, if need be, hold all Europe in check, . In pursuance of this policy Lord Beaconsfield had the Queen proclaimed Empress of India, purphased the Khedive's shares in the Suez Canal brought about the cassion of Cyprus, established amicable relations with the Sultan, and would have acquired Herat but for the defection of the lost no opportunity of utterly denouncing, and to keep his plades, because he lost no time on formally pledged themselves to uphold the Khadiye, there was no power mad enough to oppose their joint will. The Porte saw the hollowness of the alliance between France and England and calculated thus: If the two Powers invade and seize Egypt they will assuredly quarrel over the spoil. If France can be withdrawn from the compact, England will certainly not fight and of we (the Porte) can establish an insurrection in Egypt, it is clear that it must succeed and that Egypt must again become a province of Turkey. This argument formed the basis of the Turkish policy during the Egyptian crisis. Arabi was undoubtedly the creature of the Sultan, and Turkish perfidy, trouchery, and double dealing were allowed full scope. The French were certainly apprehensive of a rising of the Be doning in the North of Africa, and were afraid of arms and ammunition being supplied Turkey to the tribes through Tripoli. Whother the French were induced to withdraw from the English alliance by the assurance of the Porte that these apprehensions and fears were unfounded, can only be inferred. The French fleet was sent to Egypt whilst M. Gambetta governed France: it turned tail after his fall. Within the past few days it has come to light that some months ago France made a secret treaty with the Bey of Tunis for the virtual and absolute cession of the province. This treaty had been secretly made by French agents on the spot and had been kept secret even (as is seriously alleged) from the present French Cabinet. The Expetian orisis being over, and England having decided to give France no potent voice on the future of Egypt, this unratified Tunisian tion in the readjustment of Egyptian affairs.

The expenditure exceeds the revenue year after year. and the depression of government scrip steadily continues. Home loans can no longer be effected on any terms, and all attempts to raise a foreign loan have failed. The emergency has now become great, and a strange device has been adopted. A railway connecting the Black Sea and the Caspian has been determined on, the cost of which is eatimated at five millions sterling. The Russian Government are making a vigorous attempt to float this subeme, but the money is not to be kept apart for the railway -oh, dear, no! The Government are to buy it, and will pay the dividends as they fall due, if they one. The railway will be made sooner or later. I make no doubt, and all the difficulties of transport to British India enrmounted. Herat should have been occupied by. England long ago and a railway made to it. That is the only step that can stop Russian aggression in Central Asia.

Concessions, combined with the Coercion Bill-anhar to have produced a tranquillising effect on country generally, and matters are decidedly improving -videlical, the landlords have been plundored to an extent which satisfies the need of the tenants. I quite admit that the tenants required large concessions, but I fail to see why those should all have been made at the expense of the landlord. The Land Loague seems to have done its work, and died as it had lived in present Lord Derby. This policy Mr. Gladstone open and defiant rebellion to the Government. A new organization has been started, called the pledged himself to reverse. He certainly meant National Association, the swowed object of which is self-government for Ireland. The orhis resumption of office in reacting on the genizers of this scheme are not ut one with the Turkish lines, and that was the inducement to Irish parliamentary party. Mr. Gladstone no fied, but the organizors of the now party deem doubt thought that if England and France | such a course unworthy of a patriot and " go in" for repeal pure and simple. The Treaty of Kilmainham is not yet played out. Mr. Parnell does not mean to oppose the cloture by a bare majority! He knows well that the measure will pass either by a bare majority or by a two-thirds majority, either being the same to him. But it seems certain the Government have made some terms with him, and that they have promised to extend the Irish franchise if he will abstain from opposing cloture by a bare majority. That Mr. Gladstone is determined to carry, if he can. The scheme emanates from the Cancuses and has a damp signification, which no doubt is well understood in the inner circle. What strikes ma is this -that during the suspension of the Habeas Corpus Act in Ireland and the existence of a strong Coercion Bill, the agitators should be allowed to hout a new flag of rebellion and organise a society for defying and resisting the law.
